BEST ALL AROUND STUDENT—Jackie Gulayec is congratulated by Dr. K. C. Miller, the donor of the award, which is presented annually to the student who contributes the most to the school by good scholastic standing, proficiency in sports and a positive attitude.

FGM students receive awards

The accomplishments of the 1987-88 school year at F. G. Miller High school were rewarded Friday night, with the presentation of plaques and cheques in a total of 21 categories, encompassing students from grades 7 to 12.

Academic Honors awards, requiring an overall average of 80 percent or better in core subjects, went to the top students in all six grades, from a variety of sponsors. Grade 7 awards, from Dave's Pizza, Canadian Salt and Capitol Drugs, went to Diane Baranowski, Callie Baumgardner, Tobey Conrad, Shauna Loughran, Elisabeth Ludlage, Suzanne Rae, Christine Seniuk, and Kara Serniak.

Grade 8 recipients of awards sponsored by Dr. Frank Estey, the Town of Elk Point, and Elk Point Auto and Industrial Supply, were Steven Bayduza, Colin Bjorkman, Shannon Capjack, Kristin Kittlitz, Kim Kurek, Jason Pilisko, Shad Smereka and Mina Lee. Grade 9 awards sponsored by the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce, Elk Point and District Lions Club and the Elk Point Lioness Club went to Christina Bjorkman, Kim Bugera, Barbara Naber, Shauna Seniuk and Jeffrey Chalmers.

The Grade 10 awards, sponsored by Single Styles, J. Oryshchuk Trucking and the Elk Point Historical Society, went to Margaret Bayduza, Rhonda Behr, Nathan Bosvik, Katharina Ludlage and Kevin Bates.

The Windsor Club and John and Kay Wozniak sponsored the

Pre-Christmas election

The residents of Elk Point will get an early Christmas gift in the form of a new mayor and a complete Council roster, with a civic by-election called for Wednesday, December 14.

Council voted unanimously to fill the vacancies, with some members having conducted impromptu polls of the electors in the past few days to determine the wishes of the voters, and correspondence received from the Chamber of Commerce urging Council to proceed with a by-election.

Nominees for one or more councillors will join the mayoralty candidates on the ballot, depending on whether any of the present members of Council resign their seats to run for mayor.

Nomination date was set for Wednesday, November 16, with Steve Andrishak appointed as Returning Officer.

Councillor Allan Frankiw was appointed as Acting Mayor to conduct Monday's meeting.

Vacancies on two legislated bodies which remained after last week's Organizational Meeting were filled, with Steve Stepaniuk and Pat Vincent appointed as elected official and municipal staff member respectively as municipal facilitators for the Communities Choosing Futures Today: Vision 20/20 program. Their names will be forwarded to the Minister of Alberta Municipal Affairs, as per his request.

The vacancy on the Development Appeal Board has been temporarily filled by the appointment of Larry Demchuk as a member-at-large, who will serve in this capacity until an elected official is available to do so.

The Town has received approval of six of their hoped-for nine Priority Employment Program positions, and will be advertising for the positions of a receptionist-typist, recreation program aide, FCSS program aide, two Public Works equipment operators and one cataloguing assistant (two applied for). No approval has yet been forthcoming on the positions of bylaw enforcement officer or assistant water-sewer operator.

Two members of the FCSS Board have applied for reappointment for another three year term, with Council ratifying the reappointments of Mrs. Niki Riemer and Mrs. Judith Bilak. The FCSS Funding Agreement was approved on resolution of Council, with Elk Point eligible for $20,698 in administrative costs (unchanged for the past 8 years) plus $13.25 per capita in programming costs, up from $12.75 last year.

FGM Awards

Grade 11 awards, won by Anthony Bayduza, Angel Ference, Jayme Pelech and Joanne Wozniak, while J. & P. Koska Holdings, Sharkey's Bus Service and Pan Canadian Petroleum sponsored the Grade 12 awards, won by Ken Hanson, Albert Lim, Bryce Lorenson and Danny Maas.

Jackie Gulayec was this year's winner of the Steve Kuziw Memorial Award, which honors a former resident of the Heinsburg area who was a staunch supporter of recreation in the County of St. Paul and in the Elk Point area for over two decades, helping during that time to establish the Elk Point Recreation Board. In honor of his efforts and interest, the Recreation Board established the annual award, which was presented by Steve's mother, Mrs. Lena Kuziw.

Grade 12 Academic Awards were presented, courtesy of the Elk Point Pioneer Circle and Mrs. Grace Franks, to the students scoring the highest on the provincial diploma examinations, with Ken Hanson taking top marks in Physics 30, Biology 30 and Chemistry 30, David Anderson in Social Studies 30, Bryce Lorenson in Math 30, Carl Fakeley in English 33 and Danny Maas in English 30.

The first annual County of St. Paul High Academic Standing Award also went to Ken Hanson.

Congratulations were extended to the winners of this year's Ruthford Scholarships: David Anderson and Danny Maas, 1 year, Corrine Behr and Tammy Jennissen, 2 years, and Ken Hanson, Albert Lim and Bryce Lorenson, 3 years. These awards are based on standings of 80 percent or higher in English and four other subjects each year.

Two United Grain Growers awards were presented, with Brian Makowski receiving a cheque for his involvement in Excel Camps and Kim Kurek a cheque for her involvement in 4-H.

Dr. K. C. Miller sponsors two awards annually, for best all around student and the top Grade 12 Diploma student. The latter award went to Angie Walchuk, who successfully completed English 33 as well as all the other courses required for a diploma.

Advanced Diploma awards for Grade 11 and Grade 10 went to Anthony Bayduza and Margaret Bayduza, respectively, sponsored by the Alberta Treasury Branch and Elk Point Insurance and Realty.

French awards were presented to Tina Bjorkman, from the OORP, and to Margaret Bayduza, from the CBM Confectionery.

Elk Point Municipal Hospital sponsored the Art award, which was won by Charlotte Lazicki. Angel Ference was the recipient of the FCSS-sponsored Accounting award.

Amoco sponsored the Junior High Computer Processing Award, won by Tina Bjorkman, while the Toronto Dominion Bank sponsored the Senior High counterpart won by Margaret Bayduza.

Two local restaurants sponsored the Home Economics and Food Studies awards, with Shauna Seniuk receiving the Empress Restaurant award and Angie Miller the award donated by the Hilltop Cafe.

Industrial Education awards were sponsored by Work Wearhouse and Golden Loaf Bakery, and went to Darwin Ference and Alton Stone.

Sports award recipients were Tammy Poleschuk, Jackie Gulayec, Wanda Garriock, Michael Bepalko, Danny Maas and Dean Bosvik, with their awards sponsored by the Elk Point Elks Lodge, Elk Point RCMP and Elk Point Gas.

The annual Brailsford Memorial Music Award, sponsored by the St. George's Masonic Lodge, went to Katherina Ludlage, for her academic ability and musical prowess in the school's music program.

Ken Hanson, who is presently studying Honors Bachelor of Science, majoring in Chemistry and Biology at the University of Alberta, was this year's winner of the Kates Memorial Award, given annually by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kates in memory of their son, to the top Grade 12 student.

Dr. Bruce Kleeberger presented his annual Citizenship Award to Corey Blize, who has been deeply involved with the community through his work with the Army Cadet Corps.

The Vogel Achievement Award, which honors a student showing the greatest improvement in attitude and academic standing, went to Japanese exchange student Kaoru Miida, who spent the 1987-88 school year at F. G. Miller.

Jackie Gulayec was named the Best All-Around Student, and winner of the Dr. K. C. Miller award, with Dr. Miller commenting that he had known the recipient since her birth and was very proud of her achievement as the student judged to have contributed the most to the school.

Councillor Marshall Kachmar was appointed to the Community Futures Steering Committee, and subsequently was excused from the Utilities Committee, where he was the fourth member.

Council met in camera with ratepayer Ed Buck to review the conflict between himself and the Town regarding the municipal lane abutting his property. Council subsequently voted to ask Buck to submit a written proposal to the Town for Council's review and response.

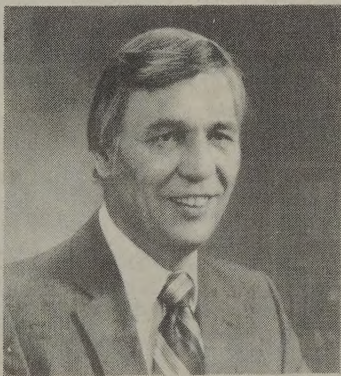

Council was advised that the Town water reservoir should be completely filled by today. The odor problem which has been noted recently will also be a thing of the past this week, as the carbon filter which has been causing the problem is being repaired.

Council voted to approve a request from the Elk Point Elks Community Service Society to forgive the 1988 taxes on the Elks Hall. The Local Authorities Board had earlier been approached for a permanent tax-free status for the property, but no decision has been forthcoming to date.

Chamber studies licencing

With Small Business Week in mind, the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce spent their October 19 meeting learning more about the regulation of businesses in Elk Point and hearing suggestions for helpful programs from the Department of Economic Development and Trade.

Pat Vincent, Town Administrator, was on hand to explain the process of business licensing, which is governed by the Municipal Government Act and by the Town's 1979 Bylaw No. 287. The bylaw regulates businesses coming in from out of town, rather than businesses opening up premises in town. Vincent said there are no qualifications under federal, provincial, or municipal statutes as to how many of any type of business can be established. The Canadian Charter of Rights prevents restrictions of this type and municipalities must move with caution to prevent any discrimination in this regard.

Regarding in-home businesses, Vincent said this is permitted under the land use bylaw with a maximum of one employee, with the license fee prescribed under the bylaw equalizing the difference between commercial and residential taxes.

Vincent has studied the Town of St. Paul and the Town of Bonnyville business licensing by-laws, and reports that those towns have the same problems with multiple businesses, but have come to the same conclusion, that 'the towns are powerless, even if it is economic suicide for the businesses.' If a hundred people wanted to start theatres in Elk Point, for example, the Town could not refuse to sell them business licenses, provided they planned to locate in the correctly zoned area, he noted.

Between $4000 and $5000 is collected in business licensing fees annually in Elk Point, Vincent told the Chamber, with notices sent out automatically each January to all license holders from the previous year.

Vincent said that the Chamber, or any other pressure group, could approach Council to have the bylaw changed, and license fees raised, if it were determined that this action is necessary.

Brent Kolodochuk of Alberta

Economic Development and Trade reported on what is happening in northeast Alberta during Small Business Week, adding that the emphasis is to make the public aware of what is available. His department can supply speakers and help to organize seminars and events related to small business.

Regarding the problems with multiple businesses discussed earlier in the meeting, Kolodochuk reminded the Chamber that 'competition is good, too' and added that studies have shown that many entrepreneurs start out with businesses in their homes before expanding to a storefront location.

Kolodochuk advised the Chamber that they could sponsor a Management Assistance Program, such as was held several years ago, to help any of the newer businesses get off to a good start, or to help older businesses to maximize profits. He also mentioned the EXTRA Management Program, for businesses interested in exporting goods. Further information on the programs will be obtained by the Chamber.

Town Council reorganizes

Elk Point Town Council held their yearly reorganizational meeting on Monday, October 17 in Council Chambers.

Councillor Steve Stepaniuk was sworn in as Deputy Mayor for the next 6 months, with Mayor Byron Mann administering the oath of office.

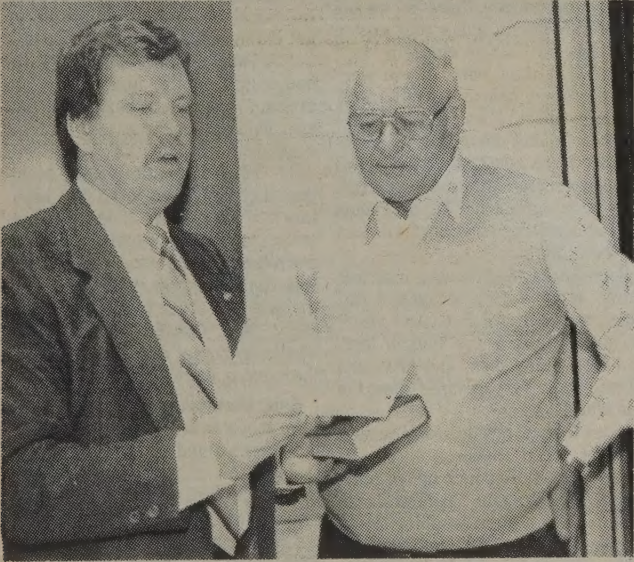

Council reviewed their committee structure, and agreed that this had worked very well over the past year. The memberships of the various committees were then reviewed, and minimal changes made as follows: Municipal Planning Commission--M. Kachmar, S. Shmyr, S. Stepaniuk; Development Appeal Board--A. Frankiw, A. Schuhmacher, member-at-large to be appointed; Court of Revision--to be appointed as required; M. D. of St. Paul Seniors Foundation Board--M. Kachmar, S. Stepaniuk; Buckingham House Management Board--A. Frankiw; Municipal Airport Commission--A. Frankiw, S. Stepaniuk; Municipal Recreation and Cultural Board--A. Frankiw, M. Kachmar, A. Schuhmacher; Municipal Library Board--A. Schuhmacher; Tourism Action Committee--A. Frankiw, M. Kachmar, P. Vincent; Finance and Administrative Committee--M. Kachmar, A. Schuhmacher, S. Shmyr; Utilities Committee--A. Frankiw, M. Kachmar, S. Shmyr, S. Stepaniuk; Community Services Committee--M. Kachmar (FCSS Board), S. Stepaniuk (Community Services Centre Mgmt. Board); Public Safety Committee--A. Schuhmacher, S. Shmyr, S. Stepaniuk; Development Committee--A. Frankiw, M. Kachmar, A. Schuhmacher; Celebration Committee--A. Schuhmacher, S. Shmyr, S. Stepaniuk; Elk Point and District Further Education Council--M. Kachmar.

Council agreed to continue to meet every second Monday for the coming year, with the exception of Monday holidays, New Years, January 2, Easter Monday, March 27, Victoria Day, May 22, and Thanksgiving Day, October 9, when the meetings will be held on the Tuesday following.

It was decided to retain the present rates for mileage, meals, accommodation and honorarium for meetings for another year, as these are considered adequate.

NEW DEPUTY MAYOR--Steve Stepaniuk was sworn in by outgoing Mayor Byron Mann at Council's October 17 organizational meeting, hours before Mann resigned his post at the Town's helm.

Small business

Small businesses are the lifeblood of our economy.

They remain in operation when corporations fail, when international trade is disrupted, when strikes and cutbacks and stock market trends make big business reel.

Often the owner is the manager, the clerk behind the counter, the order desk person, the shelf stocker, the window display artist, the accountant, AND the janitor. If he or she isn't, chances are that a member of the family fills that position. Days off are hard to find, and holidays with pay are just a dream. A weekly paycheck is something you make out for yourself if the books show a profit. If not, you say, 'maybe next week will be better.'

Alberta's small towns, villages and hamlets are home to countless small businesses of this type. An astounding number are also found in cities. They sell us gas for our cars, cream for our breakfast coffee, lumber for our building projects, shoes and shirts and sealers...and everything in between.

Every day, we visit these establishments to fill the needs of our existence. We don't have time to run to the city megamalls (there are some small businesses tucked away in those, too) or even to the supermarket, so we run down to the corner store, or to the downtown of our own community. In doing so, we strengthen our local economy and help it to prosper.

As we help ourselves to save time and money by dealing locally, we help the small businesses to survive and to thrive, and encourage them to expand and thus fill more of our needs.

Small business is you, and me, and our neighbors. Support small business—not only this week, but all year through.

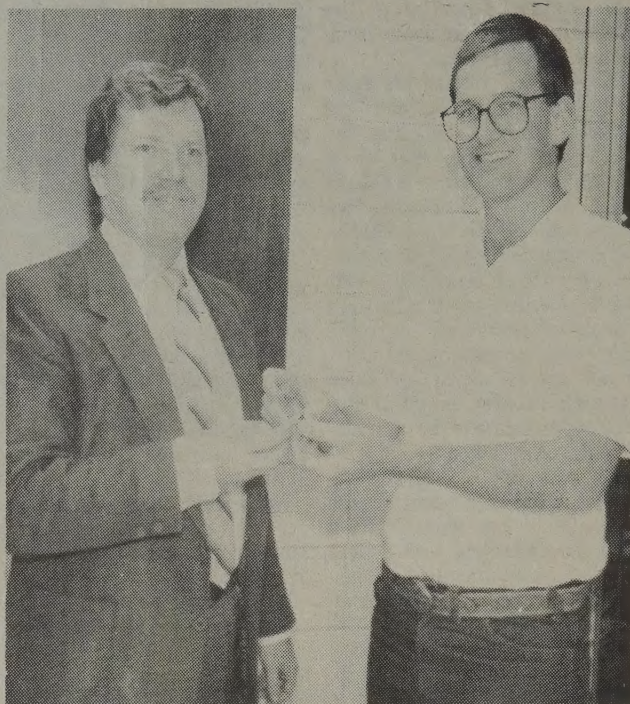

Just rewards

During the past two weeks, a total of 176 awards have been presented in only three junior and senior high schools in our area. This indicates that there are a lot of talented young people out there, who are applying themselves to their education, and reaping the rewards of excellent marks at the end of the year.

We tend to think of teenagers as flighty and lacking in ambition, interested only in loud rock music, fast cars, and having a good time. But can this be so, when so many awards are given out in three country schools in a thirty mile or less radius?

Sincere congratulations to these deserving students, and to the parents who looked on with pride as their children took the spotlight, and to the teachers who guided them through the intricacies of English, Math and the Sciences, and who coached them on the sporting fields, on a job well done.

SPECIAL SOUVENIR—Byron Mann is presented with an Elk Point flag lapel pin by Michael O'Neill, who has translated the Town flag, designed by Mann, into a very handsome souvenir item.

Alberta Trails

Another harvest home

By Irene Magnusson

Farming today is NOT like it used to be. I'm sure most farmers are glad of that, for who today would want to clear the land with axe and grubhoe, with ox and chain? Who would wish to come down off his 2690 Case, 200 horsepower, 4-wheel-drive, with heated, air-conditioned cab (complete with two-way radio, stereo music and padded seat), pulling a 35 foot cultivator, to land back on the hard metal seat of a three-bottom plow, handling the reins of a four-horse team, plus all the levers to keep the shares on an even keel...at the same time chasing off the black flies and mosquitoes?

Not you. Not me.

Farming is easier today. Farming is harder today. Easier because of modern technology, machinery, chemicals, hardier strains of seed, better transportation, larger fields, mass production—all the things that money can buy. Harder, because of all the modern efficiency, machines, chemicals, seeds and land—costing a whole pile of money. Everything had better go just right to make farming pay today.

They used to say 'anyone can farm, you don't need an education, or even too much intellect—just lots of brawn and endurance.' Now the need may not be so much for muscles, as for an Agronomist degree, and a shelf full of agricultural books.

The other ingredient to make a good farmer today, is a bottomless pocket full of money, or an 'Open Sesame' key to the lending sources of the country.

It seems odd to take a $150,000 combine out to harvest a $15,000 field, which may end up yielding $1500 worth of crop.

There is an attachment farmers develop for the land. The more you work it, the longer you stick with it, live on it—and off it—the more attached you become. With one breath you can curse it, and rage at it, for the work it demands, and the meagre returns it sometimes offers, yet a field of wheat waving in the breeze, a stand of golden canola, the sibilant swish of oats pouring from the spout into the bin, rows of fat bales, cattle in the corrals—all these can bring joy to the true farmer. To some these may only look like $$$ signs, but to those who care for their land, they represent a lot more. Perhaps the word is satisfaction?

I was asked to look back away, to old-days farming. This isn't hard to do—it doesn't seem all that long ago. My memories of old-days farming may not jibe exactly with yours, but surely some among you will remember getting started, perhaps in the dusty thirties, or on the homestead, so put your mind in gear and we'll 'go back.'

I was brought up in the country, but not on a 'farm' as my Dad was a contractor and builder. However, we had a team of horses, and a milk cow, a few pigs and a few chickens, so I knew what they were. These were strictly for our own use, we sold nothing from them. I was scared of the chickens, didn't mind the pigs, never milked a cow, and only approached the horses from in front, although they were very docile. The only thing we gathered from the land was hay for the animals.

Some years after we were married, I was about thirty, we bought this farm, where I still live. And yes, I learned to milk a cow (lots of 'em) and feed many pigs, and drive the horses, and, as we acquired them, the machines.

I also learned how to swing an axe, roll out fence (barbed) wire, pile brush, burn it, then pick up the butts and burn them again. The first stooks I made were a great laughing stock, for they all fell down, and I among them, sometimes, to my great chagrin and rage. We had wheat going 60 bushels to the acre on our recent breaking, and oats six feet tall, which we mostly used for greenfeed (the oats) so learning to make six long, slippery bundles stand up in teepee formation, without twisting around in a drunken spiral, was no easy task to learn, especially for a weak runt like myself. But I agreed if 'others could do it, so could I'—and so I did. Picking those wretched bundles up on a fork, after they had dried, and heaving them on to a rack was arm-wrenching and frustrating, especially when they fell back onto your head, but we did that, too.

I don't want you to think that I was the only one working on that farm, but Clif, my farmer, had to go off to the neighbors to work for the cash we needed for seeds, gas, machines and all the rest, and so had limited time to spend on the acres we had cleared, those first years. I helped as I was

Former resident passes away

Former Elk Point resident Grace Vera (Arnold) Lyon passed away in Sointula, BC, October 24, at 65 years. Born in Elk Point, the second daughter of the late Grant and Kate Arnold, Grace leaves to mourn their loss, her husband James Lyon, four sons: Jimmy, John, David and Michael Lyon, and one daughter, Kathy Hamm, also 5 grandchildren.

Grace served in the RCAF from 1940 to 1945, as a cook, in the east and in Pt. Hardy, BC where she met her future husband.

She is survived by six brothers, Frank, Norman, Alan, Emerson and Eddy Arnold, and two sisters, Virginia Carlson, Sointula, and Irene Magnusson, Elk Point, also an aunt, Jennie Hobden, Elk Point.

Grace was an excellent cook, but her artistry showed most in her handicrafts, exquisitely unique quilts being her specialty. She will be sorely missed by family and her community, where she has been active in Seniors' affairs since their retirement.

able, as did the kids, at whatever task came up.

I learned to drive our first little Fordson tractor, to harrow, and rake hay and mow greenfeed, to pull the cultivator and discs, to pick the rocks and roots. I also learned to drive the big iron-wheeled Allis Chalmers we used to break with—I only pulled stumps and roots. I was so afraid of it, it could have been a dinosaur—but you do what needs doing.

The neighbor who had a threshing rig came to thresh, when the stooks got dry enough. That was a big day for the whole family. Hopefully, we had stuffed all the holes in the old granary, and baked bread, pies, cookies, and had ready a roast, lots of vegetables and such like. Threshers were notorious eaters—and worse than that, could give you a poor reputation, if your 'vittle' didn't come up to the standard set by Mrs. Goodcook down the road. Then you had to make sure the cows were not in the grain, the pigs not let out by accident, that there was water pumped for whatever—horses were used to haul in the bundles, and they got thirsty.

Kids were sometimes kept home from school to help—I said 'not mine!' but they wanted to stay, so we let them. A bit of excitement in their lives. Sometimes they got to shovel grain in the granaries, sometimes I did too. We carried lunches out to the field, in a.m.'s and p.m.'s, for the hungry men, too.

In the late '30's lots of men went to Saskatchewan to thresh, my Dad and Clif among them. When Clif was 15, he fed straw into a steam powered threshing machine (the tractor that ran it) for about twenty five days, over by Cutknife. They had good crops then.

Back to today, farmers face even bigger challenges. How to keep our soil from drifting and washing away, how to make ends meet, to pay the bills and carry on, how to fight new insects, diseases and weeds, as well as inflation and the ever-increasing costs—all these are included in the life of farming.

It's an honorable profession, and one we cannot live without. So do not fail to give a moment's thought to the farms, and those who make them work. Give thanks to those farmers who have brought another harvest home.

For the Storytime kids, we are having a Halloween party! There will be a prize for the best costume. This is on Friday, October 28 at 10:30 a.m.

We will also be showing a Halloween movie for the kids at 2:00 p.m. Friday.

For all the teenagers out there we have a new cassette tape by ACDC called Blow Up Your Video. The Cheerleaders series is ready and waiting for you.

Big news, comic book readers, for Halloween we will be allowing you to trade one of your comic books for one of ours, October 26 to November 2.

The final draft of the following two reports, Findings of the Committee on Well Completion Requirements in the Lindbergh/Elk Point Area and Findings of the Committee on Surface Casing Requirements in the Lindbergh/Elk Point Area are now in the library if anyone wishes to read them. These reports are compiled by the ERCB and are in conjunction with the Open House to be held October 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the King George Hall.

WHAT'S NEWS at the Library

NEW BOOKS

NON-FICTION—No Time To Wave Goodbye by Ben Wicks—the personal story of Ben Wicks and the thousands of children whose lives would be forever changed that summer morning of 1939 in Britain when they became wartime evacuees.

The Cat Who Came For Christmas by Cleveland Amory—'tis the night before Christmas when a bedraggled white feline enters the heart...and home...of Cleveland Amory. An enchanting true story that makes laughing out loud inevitable, The Cat Who Came For Christmas is for anyone who has ever been owned by a cat...or any other pet.

The Arctic Grail by Pierre Berton—the quest for the North West Passage and the North Pole, from Edward Peary, the first white man to probe deep into the Arctic labyrinth in 1890 to the ruthless Robert Peary, who claimed to have reached the Pole in 1909. Another must-be-read book by this famous author, Pierre Berton.

Card of Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of my relatives, neighbors and friends for their thoughtfulness expressed during my stay in the hospital. My family and I believe that your cards, flowers, warm wishes and prayers played a very important part in my recovery. Thank you all very much and may God bless you!!!

Deborah Grey hits the campaign trail

Reform Party candidate Deborah Vilna Hospital's 60th Anniversary Grey is well on her way down the campaign trail, and has visited all the major towns in the Beaver River constituency, dropping in at their newspaper offices, mainstreeting in St. Paul and Smoky Lake, attending the

and the Spring Park Chicken Supper. She has been to open houses held on her behalf, spoken to a high school social studies class, and greeted the shoppers at a mammoth fundraising garage sale held this weekend in Elk Point by her supporters. She has also met all three of her fellow candidates, and wished them good luck in their campaigns.

Yesterday marked the opening of Ms. Grey's campaign office, in the former bakery premises in Elk Point's Plaza 75, at 50 Street and 51 Avenue, with volunteers manning the phone lines at 724-3644, and Ron Dunlop and Tom Holliday taking bookings for appearances and events. Earlier plans for a mobile campaign office did not work out, but Ms. Grey says she has several campaign managers in various parts of the riding to help her keep track of engagements in those areas.

Ms. Grey will also take part in candidate forums that have been scheduled for St. Paul, Bonnyville, Mal-laig, Smoky Lake and Bon Accord.

The present campaign is the first major involvement with politics for the Heinsburg area resident, who teaches at Dewberry. Reading about the Reform Party since its inception, she found its ideas were 'refreshing. I felt they were genuinely concerned with representing the west, and decided I would vote that way in the next federal election. I have often feared that although the MPs from the west go to Ottawa with good intentions, they are so subjected to party discipline that they get hushed up and end up speaking for their party.'

When the November 21 election was announced and no Reform Party candidate had come forth in the riding, Ms. Grey decided 'to go for it.' She was nominated October 12 at a meeting of the party in St. Paul.

Recreation Board news

By Gail Kozicky

The last regular meeting of the Elk Point Municipal Recreation Board was held on October 5, 1988 in Council Chambers.

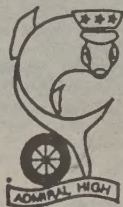

Of interest on the agenda this month was the formulation of a steering committee for the construction of a new Recreational Facility to replace the present Community Services Centre. Four members are in place, Dr. B. Kleeberger, Allan Frankiw, Bill Jennissen and Barry Romanko, with a fifth member to be appointed shortly. This group will be looking into all aspects of researching, designing and the eventual building of the new facility.

If you have taken a fall drive west of town lately, you will have noticed some activity on the south east corner of the Recreation Land. The new Ball Diamonds are now complete. This property now consists of the golf course, hiking / cross-country ski trails, camping stalls and of course the three new ball diamonds. Quite an impressive site!

The Swim Program has been a huge success. In all 22 school age students are travelling to St. Paul, by Elks Van, to take swimming lessons, two days a week. Lessons started October 3 and will end November 4. Thank you to all the students participating and the parents who support the program and help with the driving.

If you are interested in Bowling in St. Paul or Skiing Kinross later in the winter, please call the office, at 724-4409, from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, weekdays.

Advanced Global Telecommunications for the Moran family

Dale Moran farms the same piece of land near Huxley that his father and grandfather did. Dale's dad, Eugene, still remembers the day they got telephone service in 1937. Today, Dale and his wife, Dianne, rely on AGT's worldwide data networks to access grain markets and weather reports with their personal computer. When Alberta calls for Advanced Global Telecommunications today, tomorrow, and beyond, AGT puts it within reach.

Ag Society elects 1988-89 executive

The Elk Point and District Agricultural Society named their 1988-89 executive at last Wednesday's Annual Meeting, which drew a good attendance in spite of the competition from televised hockey and baseball.

Glenn Harms was returned as President for a second term, with Alban Bugej, Harvey Aarbo and Glen Brovchenko as the three vice-presidents, in charge of Fairgrounds, Agricultural Events and Trade Fair, and Ice Activities, respectively. Orest Capjack was returned for his fifth term as Treasurer, while Ken Nielsen will take on the Secretarial duties. A total of twelve Directors were named to help with the society's operation: Charlene Baker, Joe Wadley, Doug McPherson, Tina Bugej, Shirley Harms, Jeff Diesel, Robin Nielsen, Murry Nielsen, Judy Estey, Elaine Aarbo, Doris Ludlage and Ralph Jurak.

A review of the past year showed that the Elk Point Agricultural Society has 'one of the two Alberta arenas that runs in the black' financially, President Harms said. The 1987-88 financial statement showed a record profit for the concession booth, plus a sizeable contribution resulting from the Trade Fair. The annual $15,000 grant the society has received from the Wild Rose Foundation for the past three years will be extended to 1989 and 1990, members were told. That was the good news.

The bad news came in the form of major roof repairs which have been undertaken since the date of the Financial Statement, with over $30,000 spent on much-needed repairs to the roof decking and replacement of the shingles. It was noted that all materials were purchased locally for the job, with Harold Lefebvre of St. Paul employed on the project. Then the smaller ice compressor required extensive repairs, to the tune of $7500. The larger compressor will hopefully hold out for the balance of the winter before it, too, needs repairs, and the Society hopes the Zamboni will also make it through the season. 'All these repairs should have been done years ago,' Harms noted, but funds were sadly lacking in those years.

Reports from several committees were heard. Judy Estey reported Figure Skating enrollments are down somewhat, but the program is already underway. The Skating Club will hold its annual Skate-a-thon on December 4.

Charlene Baker reported that all events at the Society's first Trade Fair were a success, and that all are looking forward to next year's fair.

Regarding Adult Hockey, it was reported that the Elks are getting geared up for another season, complete with new uniforms, and that there will be at least as many commercial teams as last year.

Shirley Harms reported for the Booth Committee, urging cooperation from both minor hockey and figure skating parents. Since the adult groups are no longer involved in the booth workload, people are having to work as many as six times to keep the concession in operation throughout the season.

Alban Bugej of the Ways and Means Committee said that the Fairgrounds project had been kicked off with an open house to display the plans for the multipurpose facility to the public. He said that former mayor Byron Mann had supported the project enthusiastically, and hoped that Mann's replacement 'will be like-minded.' Bugej says the Ag. Society plans to approach the Town regarding land for the project in the very near future.

Another new project is already a gleam in the eye of the far-thinking Society, with Doug McPherson reporting on fact-finding missions regarding a swimming pool. Although most pools in Alberta towns are operating at a deficit and 'everything about them is expensive', the concept is still under consideration as it is felt a pool would be a good addition to the Elk Point recreation scene.

Social programs are not endangered

By John Dahmer
PC Candidate, Beaver River

As we enter the fourth week of the campaign I am pleased to finally be able to use the media, since the advertising blackout outlined in the Elections Act is now over. Speaking with people directly, in their homes and on the street is still the best way to learn people's concerns and discuss the issues.

I would like, however, to take this opportunity to clarify some aspects of the Free Trade Agreement that seem to be causing concern for some people.

The Free Trade Agreement (FTA) is negotiated under the auspices of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Under GATT rules, 'generally available social programs' such as Medicare, education, Unemployment Insurance, pensions and so on, are not 'counter-actable'. That means that social programs CANNOT come under attack from another country as an unfair subsidy or an unfair barrier to trade. GATT rules take precedence over the views of any single country.

In fact, the FTA specifically incorporates Article XX of the GATT rules as a clause within the Free Trade Agreement. This provides further clarification, including measures to: protect public morals (eg. pornography controls), protect human, animal or plant life or health (eg. environmental protection and health programs), implement product standards (eg. consumer protection), and protect items of artistic, historic or archaeological value (eg. cultural properties).

There is also provision in the FTA for protection of Canadian jobs should an American company receive a Canadian contract. American companies would have to hire Canadians, and they would have to adhere to any rules or regulations that Canada imposed—no matter if those rules are different than the ones used by the States.

The Free Trade Agreement is too long and involved to discuss fully in such a short column but I hope that any persons having difficulty with any aspects of the agreement will contact me with their concerns and I will endeavor to get an explanation to them as soon as possible.

IF YOU OWN YOUR OWN P & NG RIGHTS DON'T GIVE AWAY THE FARM

Oil and Gas Companies evaluate lands before leasing. They have professional landmen and geologists representing them.

SHOULDN'T YOU?

Have professional advice/representation before giving out a lease.
Do you know what your P & NG rights are worth?

You could be losing $$$$ in bonuses and royalties.

Over the past thirty years, crown and fee leases have evolved to reflect the ever changing economic conditions associated with oil and gas exploration and regulations, which included, in part, increasing bonuses and royalties. Free hold has not. Are you aware of the changes and the consequences that affect you?

You see a professional for your health, stock, and crops. So why not for your P & NG rights, which could be your ultimate asset?

We are a new concept. We do not offer our services to the oil industry. We offer our services to you!

ISN'T IT ABOUT TIME?

You owe it to yourself and your bank account to see us before you assign a lease, or release to an oil and gas company. Even if you have assigned an existing lease, you owe it to yourself to know what your assets are worth and what your rights are.

Are oil and gas companies living up to their obligations? Are you aware, and do you know the repercussions involved?

Most evaluations less than $300. We will supply and evaluate the offsetting land and wells, and then evaluate your property. Written appraisals with appropriate maps and recommendations are provided.

SERVICES OFFERED:

- Appraisals, evaluations and recommendations.
- Computerized monitoring of oil and gas activity in your area.
- Representation in negotiations and necessary documentation.

Professional advice from a staff with over twenty years intensive oil and gas experience nationally and internationally.

CANADA-ALBERTA GREENFEED PROGRAM

FINAL REMINDER OF SITE INSPECTION DEADLINE

The Canada-Alberta Greenfeed Program was established to encourage production of livestock feed supplies for drought affected areas of the province, and to assist in soil conservation.

To be eligible for a program payment, those Alberta farmers who planted annual feed crops for hay, silage or pasture and have already applied for assistance must notify the local Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance

Office prior to October 31, 1988 to have the site inspected.

Failure to request an inspection by October 31, 1988 will make you ineligible under the program.

For further information contact your local Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance Corporation office.

Heinsburg junior-senior Awards Day

Hard work was rewarded on Friday afternoon when eighty nine medals were presented to the Junior and Senior High students of Heinsburg School, for the 1987-88 school year. The teachers in each subject area gave the medals to students who had honours marks or showed the most improvement in the course.

Perfect Attendance awards went to Arlene Bendixen, Gr. 7, Kim Best and Loretta Smuk, Gr. 9 and Kari Barstad, Gr. 10.

Awards for proficiency in Home Economics went to Lori Barstad, Gr. 7, Melvin Cardinal and Donna Moyah, Gr. 8, Kim Best, Loretta Smuk and Trent Krider, Gr. 9, Kari Barstad and Janice Blacklock, Food Studies 10, Crystal Fayant, Food Studies 20, Linda Twarog, Food Studies 30.

Proficiency in Industrial Arts yielded medals for Bradley Gunderson, Grade 7, Jonathon Best, Grade 9, Doyle Skolarchuk, Grade 10 and Jason Kinch, Grade 11.

Awards for proficiency in Typing went to Jennifer Daniels, Typing 10, Alan Abraham and Doreen Waskahat, Typing 20, and Josie and Aimee Dion, Typing 30.

Biology 20, while Most Improved awards for that subject went to Donna Moyah, Gr. 8, and Trent Krider, Gr. 9.

English and Language Arts awards were presented to Sara Daniels, Gr. 7, Kim Best, Kevin Blacklock and Lionel Fryingpan, Gr. 9, Kari Barstad, Janice Blacklock and Jennifer Daniels, Eng. 10 for honours standings, and to Arlene Bendixen, Gr. 7, Wayne Daniels, Eng. 10, Tina Trotier, Eng. 13, Ken Fiddler, Eng. 23, and Kim Thomson, Eng. 30, for most improvement.

Mathematics Honors awards went to Sara Daniels and Arlene Bendixen, Gr. 7, Melvin Cardinal, Gr. 8, Kim Best, Kevin Blacklock and Loretta Smuk, Gr. 9, Janice Blacklock and Henry Thomson, Math 10, and Roger Osinchuk, Math 20. Most improved mathematicians were Clinton Abraham and Colin Kinch, Gr. 9.

Social Studies Honors awards went to Sara Daniels, Darin McCollum, Darren Skolarchuk and Bridgette Tucker, Gr. 7; Kevin Blacklock and Cory Twarog, Gr. 9; Kari Barstad, Janice Blacklock, Jennifer Daniels, Michelle Peters, Chris Rowe and Henry Thomson, SS 10; Roger Osinchuk, SS20; and Sheridan Taylor, SS30. Most improved in this subject were Faye LaBoucane, Gr. 7, Kim McQuinn, Gr. 8, Stacey-Dawn Gladue, Gr. 9, Karen Durocher, SS10, Crystal Fayant, SS20, and Aimee Dion, SS30.

Over-all Average Awards, for those with over 80 percent in all core subjects, went to Sara Daniels, Grade 7, Kevin Blacklock, Gr. 9 and Janice Blacklock, Gr. 10. Kim Thomson was presented with the medal in the Advanced Diploma program, while Josie Dion, who was not present for the awards, qualified in the General Diploma category.

A number of Athletic Awards were presented, with Jonathan Best, Arlene Bendixen, Roger Osinchuk and Linda Twarog the Best Athletes, Colin Kinch, Donna Moyah, Chris Rowe and Karen Durocher the Most Improved, and Chris Abraham, Michelle Abraham, Jason Kinch and Kari Barstad the Most Sportmanlike Athletes.

Roger Osinchuk was presented with this year's Citizenship Award, while Ms. Mabel Abraham was designated as the winner of the Community Recognition Award.

Laverne Wilson, Principal, awarded the Citizenship and Community Recognition awards. He said that the staff considered several students for the Citizenship award, finally choosing Roger Osinchuk. Mr. Wilson said that Roger was interested in school, a leader among his fellow students, and respected by staff, students and community. He was resourceful and self-motivated, which showed in his quality school performance and plans for further study in veterinary science.

Ms. Abraham, whose daughter Deanna accepted the Community Recognition plaque on her behalf, has sent nine children to Heinsburg School over the last fourteen years. She is very interested in their education, always supporting them and teaching them to be punctual, well behaved and good students.

Another Burning Issue

Talk about burning issues. Here's one that could spell disaster.

Take a good look around your home. Chances are you have electrical cords in every room. But have you looked at those cords lately? Noticed some fraying? Perhaps the cord is a little hot to the touch. No big deal, right?

Wrong! Those frayed edges may be all it takes to cause electrocution or fire. Don't take that chance!

Check all the cords and plugs in your home. Avoid twisting cords. Disconnect appliances by pulling the plug, not the cord, from the wall outlet. And never break off the third prong on a plug.

Only you can make your home a safe place. Start now.

When it comes to electrical safety - don't take chances.
